UBPL 502/802 Topics in UBPL: Planning for Climate Change & Disasters

Instructor: Ward Lyles (Assistant Professor)

Explores the evolution of civil society in the context of the American workplace, tracing the history of the labor movement, the decline of unions, and the rise of the sharing economy and start-up culture. Through this lens, concepts of community, social capital, and civil capacity building, and their relations to effective community functioning, democratic politics, and administrative expertise will be investigated.
